

Code of Conduct

AS A MEMBER OF THE SOUTH AFRICAN PAINT MANUFACTURING ASSOCIATION:

We will be honest with our customers and the public.

We recognise our responsibilities to our customers and the public and will serve them with integrity by providing products and services beneficial to them and by issuing only accurate and fair statements about our respective companies and products.

We will be honest about our company, our products and our competitors.

We agree to represent our products truthfully in advertising and labelling and to avoid false, misleading or exaggerated statements about our position in the industry, our own products or those of other member companies.

We will compete fairly and not be critical of our competitors.

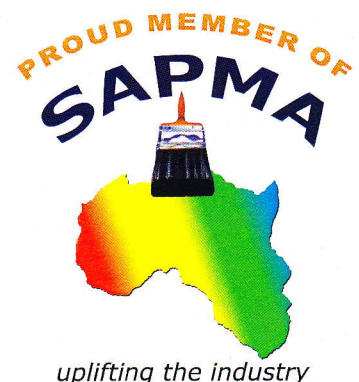

We pledge to compete fairly and honestly and to refrain from false or derogatory references about other member companies or their products.

We will be lawful and environmentally responsible and we will represent the Surface Coatings Industry in an efficient manner.

We commit ourselves to lawful practices and environmental responsibility and to increasing the good reputation, efficiency and service capability of both our own organisations and the Industry as a whole.

Members of the association who find themselves in conflict should take all necessary steps to resolve their differences between themselves before referring such differences to the association, the media or any outside body.

This "Code of conduct" includes new clauses or "Codes of Practice" added from time to time.
